Ted Seres

National Director, Canadian Bible Society

"The Canadian Bible Society is thrilled to be associated with this ground-breaking initiative, which has the power to impact children's lives. Bible engagement is one of the CBS mandates, and YAHERO is moving the Bible online into an interactive game format which is very exciting territory that children are familiar with. The YAHERO website allows kid's to become engaged with God's Word while having incredible fun! "

President & CEO, FaithLife Financial

"Isaiah 64:8b "We are the clay, and You are our potter; we are all the work of Your hand." This scripture reminds me that we have a responsibility to shape and guide our own gifts as well as the gifts our Creator has given to the future generation. That includes teaching our children to live generous lives according to God's call. Yahero is a wonderful tool to help parents, grandparents and encouragers talk to kids about Christian values and God's love for them, because it presents information in a way that makes sense to youth today."

Melodie Bissell

President of Winning Kids Inc. and National Children's Facilitator for The Christian and Missionary Alliance Church in Canada.

"I highly recommend Yahero, as a safe and secure website for kids. I am so impressed that the site has been developed with excellence, utilizing an automated behavioural management software that is sophisticated and intuitive. Kids will enjoy the same quality and excitement as other web based games and activities within the parameters of a Bible-based community. Parents and caregivers are encouraged to carefully monitor their children's on-line activities, yet you can know that Yahero is providing you a second set of eyes."

Natalie Rogge
National Children's Ministries Coordinator, Mission Canada/Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada

"Kids are bombarded with messages that are flashed before them continuously – trying to capture their attention, and yes, even their hearts. YAHERO is different from other virtual worlds because it's based on Bible principles. Kids need creative and non-compromising sites to take their friends to and it's critical to increase biblical literacy in the next generation. I'm hooked because YAHERO is doing just that through allegory, games and activities that are fun and exciting. Check it out and join the quest for Yahweh's truth."

Pastor Mark Holmen
Missionary to the Faith@Home Movement

"Imagine a virtual, online world filled with Biblical principles and truth for children to discover...that's YAHERO! To be a Faith@Home focused household we need resources like YAHERO that enable us to bring solid Biblical teaching into our homes through one of the most creative and engaging online tools for children that I have encountered."

Steve Fleming
Founding and Senior Pastor, Koinonia Christian Fellowship

"I commend the vision of YAHERO. I believe, that as the church, we have an obligation to train children to be the leaders of tomorrow, by equipping them with a biblical worldview. YAHERO offers an online virtual world to children that captures their imagination and encourages Bible engagement in a fun, dynamic and safe way. I encourage families, churches and educators to get behind YAHERO – the potential is endless!"

Scott Cochrane
Vice President, International Ministries Willow Creek Association

"That YAHERO will creatively help children connect with the Bible is very evident. But to me, the key is in how YAHERO involves the parents in this process. If you desire to guide your children on a journey of biblical discovery, I would urge you to check out YAHERO. "

"YAHERO is an online learning experience where children learn the Bible in dynamic, exciting ways. We continue to hear stories from church after church where YAHERO is being used to instill a passion for Scripture in a way that speaks to children today. What has particularly drawn me to YAHERO is the way in which it provides a refreshing way for church leaders to partner with parents to effectively introduce biblical truths to children."

Greg Bitgood
Superintendent, Heritage Christian Schools

"Yahero is a place where our young emerging digital generation can navigate the online spaces where they are growing with a sense of adventure and fun while they are learning ancient, yet relevant principles of the Bible. Our children are growing up in digital world and the quests, games and adventures found in Yahero will help them find meaning in everyday life."

Susan Dunk
Founder, KidZone Urban Ministries

"Hey parents' it's time to celebrate a new online game that we can really get excited about! YAHERO is the first Bible-based online world to integrate games and social networking with Bible discovery. It's 100% fun and safe for our kids – go YAHERO!"

Dave Champion
Principal, Koinonia Christian Academy

"As a Christian educator, I realize how critical it is for us to reach the next generation with a Christian worldview. YAHERO will help children apply the Bible's message to their daily lives in a captivating environment where they are already spending a lot of their time."
